In what is being seen as a positive development towards making a potential peace deal between the US and North Korea a reality, Donald Trump and Kim Jong-un shook hands for the first time since the US president became president. While progress was made at the summit, no agreement was reached to end the Korean War. Kim pledged to work towards denuclearisation, but there has been no movement on this front since last year's historic meeting with Trump in Singapore. Heritability of seed abortion in bread wheat: Incorporating effect of genotype \times environment interactions. Abortion of grains is one of the major yield-reducing factors in bread wheat (Triticum aestivum L.). Aborted grains with discoloured testa, usually yellow-brown, arise from aborting of white, or light coloured, testa grains. By combining information of heritability (h^2) and genetic correlations (rGE) between testa colour and grain abortion, the genetic and environmental factors contributing to the occurrence of the two traits can be disentangled. The most abundant yellow-brown testa colour is light yellow/brown (LYB), and the least frequent is brown (BRN). In addition, red (RED) and very light yellow (VLY) were combined into one class (LY) in this study. Testa colour was quantified on a 1-9 scale (where 1 was testa without colour and 9 was testa with fully developed green). Grain abortion was determined as the
