HOW TO INSTALL WINDOWS XP SP3? ===== There are many methods to install Windows XP Service Pack 3 but they are not recommended. SP3 is not a fresh copy of XP but a service pack which is very old. This may happen when some of the files has been damaged. If you face the following problem: Installing Windows XP Service Pack 3 – After rebooting your computer, Windows XP Service Pack 3 screen appears and it says that your computer is not ready. It is a blue screen of death. This is the normal screen for the computer and its still running but the normal screen is changed into the blue screen of death. 1.If you have good computer performance and its work properly then there are not problems with your computer, and there are some other solutions which are recommended. 2.Check your CD ROM Drive, Remove all CD ROMS and CD and insert it again 3.Check your Hard disk and it's correct and it's working fine 4.Check your Motherboard, and it's working fine and motherboard is working fine. 5.Check your video card and it's working fine 6.It may be a bad RAM which is responsible for the blue screen. 7.You can try to update your video card driver. 8.It may be a problem in your monitor or in your computer. So, what's the solution to fix this problem? If the problem persists, then you need to go for the manufacturer's warranty. After going for the warranty then you have to contact the technical team, they will also check the computer for the reason of getting the problem. If the computer is working fine then it may be due to the compatibility of the application. For example, when you are using the new program and you are having some problem with it. So, in this condition you have to re-install the new software or the new program and in that case

The move is designed to prevent the Chinese companies from working with US tech giant Intel to develop its next-generation wireless 5G technology. The ban comes as the US government continues to scrutinise the ties between Huawei and the Chinese government, and as President Trump vows to impose more sanctions on Chinese exports. It also follows another ban by the US Department of Commerce on American companies selling components to the Chinese firms. Huawei has been collaborating with US chipmaker Intel for some time, using its Nervana chipsets for its servers, and most recently for an early version of the software used to develop 5G technology. But the US chipmaker has now reportedly taken the decision to end the collaboration with Huawei, leaving the Chinese company with no other choice than to look elsewhere for its 5G technology. ZTE has also been working with Intel on developing 5G technology and the US chipmaker has not denied that ZTE is also barred from using Intel's processors. Huawei and ZTE have also been sanctioned by
