This is the story of my life, my dreams, my goals, and my adventures.MANILA (Philippines News Agency) - The European Union has offered a token $150 million aid package to help financially ailing flood-hit areas in Pakistan, but Asian neighbors are pulling strings behind the scenes, hoping to get a share of the pie. Asian power brokers, including China, Turkey and Iran, are putting a greater focus on the European Union's Asia-Pacific policy in the wake of the economic bloc's poor performance in the Brexit vote, EU leaders and diplomats said, even as they appear to be falling out of the EU's orbit. On the ground in Pakistan, EU diplomats say the $150 million has been offered by the European Commission on the condition that Pakistan releases more than 1,000 EU nationals held in prison, something Pakistan's government has balked at. "The EU only put up the money if the Pakistanis released 77a5ca646e

Countdown for the upcoming Metal Slug Anthology, free download. Follow the game's progress on your homepage, view the time until this game is released and countdown to the release. Been a long time since I made a new tool for otherextreme's mods. Basically what I did was made a mod to the official javascript of Metalslug, and renamed a few things like "a" => "attack_ability_1" (I guess that one is easy to change, but there are so many different possibilities with these a and d values. So basically, you can use these custom things in your custom mod, and change the js to your liking. All credit goes to otherextreme's mod, but I only changed the js, no new images are added by me, and the comments are intact. The download is up to you, and I don't really have any copyright warnings, since they're already on the official site and are totally okay (even if I don't agree with those statements :P). Let me know if you find this mod useful, or if it's completely useless to you. Description: I made a mod which allows the use of the "Pick-a-nick" feature in Metal Slug Anthology. The mod adds a script to the "pick-a-nick" option (it's basically the combination of two keys, so you can change it to whatever you want). Also, it would be nice if I could get some more people to add custom images for the custom numbers, but I have the right to ask the owner of otherextreme's mod to add custom images (which I can change to whatever I want to) and I guess he might do it, since he's always saying that he's doing it for the others when they ask him. So feel free to send him a PM and tell him that you want the images to be added to your custom mod. I updated my Metal Slug Anthology tool, because I added the ability to download the entire thing for free. I still have to make a time counter, so I can download the game for free in the right time (and send it to my friends who don't have an internet connection in their house :P). I can't remember if I did it before, but my tool was never fully finished. Now I added a time counter, so you can check the time and the download will start (when the download is complete, you'll get a download icon in your othextreme browser, and you'll be able to download the game for free). I made this mod because the download for Metal Slug Anthology isn't finished yet. But it's pretty much a mod, in which I added a pick-a-nick function, that lets you change the d-pad/a-pad
