Description: Solving the problem of updating software on board a computer. We use the update command. Updating the program - adding new versions to the list. Requirement: The program must be changed no more than once per hour. Versions of all processes are updated: Users, programs, databases. Input and processing of primary data can be done through parameters. In the old model, work using the NTLM protocol. In order to perform operations through ports, it is desirable to save a record in a file that is "bound" to a specific port. According to the given rules, the file with the program must be opened using the SFT utility, for example, ActiveDocument. To change and save records at specified addresses in the index, use a special utility, such as Active Data Object Storage (ADOS) File Manager. It provides many utility utilities that allow you to work with files and directories. For Windows NT OS: Working with a sound card, etc. Process optimization: Reservation of resources - allows you to allocate more than 1000 MB of memory if necessary. If you work incorrectly with the program, Notepad closes immediately. If the computer does not have time to cool down after work and creates a load on the CPU, then the CPU may be overloaded. Antivirus programs can reduce the load. For the user, this is an increase in the speed of work by 2.5-5 times, when working with a file up to 256 KB in size. Built-in tool for recovering damaged objects. The new model partially uses the capabilities of VMware Workstation and Windows 7. POWER-V, VMWare vCenter Server, Virtual PC are supported. " Entering, editing and updating MS-DOS. Information about the computer is primarily the content of the activity log. For the prompt solution of diagnostic problems, I will
