balancing act. Depending on where you live, you may enjoy running around in your bare feet for a few minutes in the morning, and maybe even taking a shower with sunshine streaming through the window. If you live in a climate with long, cold winters and hot summers, however, be aware that the sun's rays may get in the way of a shower just like a cold, wet winter day, making the warm water on your skin a bit chilly. And, of course, hot sunlight can cause a person's skin to burn, especially since the skin is much less protective than in the winter. However, if you like warm sunshine all year round, there's a more romantic way to showering in the daylight without burning yourself too much. Read on to see five tips for showering in the sunlight or in the dark, so you can enjoy a shower whenever you want. 5 Tips for Showering in the Sunlight or in the Dark Keep cool water on hand 1. Keep cool water on hand. 570a42141b
