The entire.Q: Is there a way to force the company to update a specific project? I am working for company A and my boss is not in charge of Project X (Project A), but he is giving us tasks for Project X and expects us to complete it by a certain deadline. Project X is for beta versions of an app so it's important to be released by that date. In my case, it's a task that if not finished by that date, I will get into trouble because that task is important to me.
