Note Adobe makes a commercial guide available for users who pay for an update. ## Using Photoshop Elements Photoshop Elements is a simplified version of Photoshop with fewer features. You can upgrade to Photoshop Elements from Photoshop if you're familiar with it and want the convenience of using it free of charge. Photoshop Elements has fewer editing tools and is a reasonably priced tool for photographers. The Photoshop Elements interface is simpler than Photoshop and enables you to create, view, and edit basic raster images and bitmap images, such as JPEG and TIFF files. ## Using Photoshop for Mac If you're using the Mac, make sure that you have a later version of Photoshop that supports your needs, such as Photoshop CS6, which includes many of the features used in this book. # About This Book ## The Essentials of Using Photoshop Because Photoshop is the industry standard for digital image editing, the new and advanced features that it offers make it ideal for photographers. In this book, we'll cover the following: * Getting Started * Selecting an Image * Making the Image Useable * Resizing the Image * Cropping the Image * Backgrounds * Using Tools to Edit Your Image * Grayscale Versus RGB Color * Adding Special Effects to Images * Creating, Printing, and Photographing Business Cards * Adobe Photoshop Elements ## Using Photoshop for Windows The features in Photoshop are similar in Windows and Mac, but several Windows commands work differently than in Macs. Q: What is the best way to get user click on any part of the google map and then pass that information to my code I am using the google map api V3 and am trying to get the user's click on any part of the map and then pass that information to my code. Right now I have the following code:
