B.C. branch director fired after nearly three decades COSTA MESA (CNS) - A Costa Mesa branch director of the union that represents federal public service workers has been fired after nearly three decades with the organization. The U.S. Department of Labor announced Tuesday that it has fired Donald VanBokkelen, a 23-year union veteran and the branch director in Costa Mesa since 1993, after determining that he was guilty of "misconduct in relation to his position." His union, the American Federation of Government Employees, maintains VanBokkelen did not cheat or steal from his employer. "The Federal Service Impasses Panel recently provided the United States Department of Labor with detailed evidence of Mr. VanBokkelen's misconduct and recommended his termination," said Bart Mester, a spokesman for the union. "On behalf of the membership that works tirelessly to support the federal government, the American Federation of Government Employees welcomes any and all challenges and action taken by the

Download ScreenShot: look at just how pervasive synthetic marijuana is. "So you want to do some serious partying?" The public is confused by the lack of regulation surrounding synthetic pot (SP). While marijuana is slowly permeating the market, synthetic pot remains a largely untapped resource, unregulated and the subject of much media coverage. With the legalization of cannabis on the horizon, it's important to understand what exactly synthetic pot is, how it's made and how dangerous it could be. What is synthetic pot, and what does it do? The result of synthetic cannabis' creation is known as cathinone, a stimulant which works on the same receptors in the brain as opium. However, instead of causing opiate withdrawal, it produces a slight euphoria. Not only is synthetic pot a new trend, but it's also currently believed to be the more dangerous form of synthetic cannabis. Cathinone is absorbed quickly into the blood and it does not require a liver detoxification system, meaning users do not have time to form the cathinone-3-glucuronide, the main metabolite and less dangerous byproduct of consuming cathinone. “These types of synthetic cannabinoids are sold as a mixture of synthetic cannabinoids in many different forms. The mixture or combination typically contains a low-dose cannabinoid (typically around 1 mg) with a high dose of a synthetic cannabinoid, which can be as high as 100 mg. The low-dose cannabinoids on its own can be sold as “legal highs” or “designer drugs”.” — The Independent Drug Control Wales have also suggested that some producers are “mixing MDPV [a synthetic form of marijuana] with synthetic cannabis and [may] be hiding the presence of MDPV, not just by not listing the MDPV in the ingredients but by mixing it in to a number of recipes which end up in different supply channels all over the world.” All of this leads to several misconceptions regarding synthetic pot, especially amongst youth, who are often exposed to both synthetic cannabis and synthetic pot. A recent study published by the National

Recommended: Verdict: Casual MOBA is the only MOBA that has changed the landscape of MOBA scene in India. Not because it has been able to gather a large number of fans, but because of its simplicity and accessibility. Although it is not a new concept, it is a very refreshing one and should be played by everyone. It brings back that simplicity of old school MOBA which makes it the best MOBA for people who have never played a MOBA before. It was also one of the first few MOBA games to introduce the
