Paths: Define custom shapes for whatever effects you wish to perform, such as using the Eraser to edit your path. Fonts: Typefaces are one of the most versatile effects in Photoshop. They can be used for anything from arranging items on a page to arranging words on a sign. In fact, the Character palette can be used to swap out fonts for custom characters. Effects: Photoshop's effects can be used for all sorts of tricks. One of the most useful is the Swirl effect, which lets you turn one area of an image into a 2D version of a 3D or rotate image. Photoshop Artboards: The layers and their associated tools can be organized into special areas called Artboards. Unlike pages in conventional presentations, Photoshop Artboards have no specific size. All they need is a clear view of your image. You can use the Artboard tool to create them. Photoshop CS4 : What's New? Photoshop makes transforming and editing your photos and graphics easy. It provides you with a huge set of very powerful tools to help you achieve your artistic vision, fast and efficiently. You will find everything you need to get started. You can unleash your creativity and start editing and experimenting with the help of many features and tools in the latest Photoshop CS4. Here's a list of some of the most important features in Photoshop CS4: Layer Masks: These allow you to edit a particular area while leaving everything else unedited. You can make a selection or leave it totally unaffected, or use it to correct problems with cropping or spacing. Layers: These allow you to separate your images into different areas, add effects, and rearrange them later. You can blend them, add masks, and use the Stencil tools to produce new layers. Overlay: This allows you to add multiple layers, combine them, and produce some very nice effects. All you have to do is place your layers on top of one another and watch the magic happen. Mask: You can manipulate, cut and paste, cut layers, and make your work more effective by using this tool. Auto-Smear: You can use this to blur any areas of an image. You'll automatically be able to get the perfect balance between texture and sharpness. Lens Correction: This allows you to remove blurred areas, make light areas brighter, add glare, and recover images that are too dark. Spot Healing

Washington (CNN) -- Sen. Ted Cruz, the conservative Republican from Texas who has offered a formidable challenge to Democratic front-runner Hillary Clinton, said Wednesday he was making a run for the White House because Americans are hungry for "bold, principled leadership." In a television ad airing in Iowa, Cruz, 40, said "Ted Cruz has shown how to win in the Republican primary." "We're running for president to restore America to its Judeo-Christian, conservative, constitutional principles," Cruz says in the 30-second spot. "That's why I'm running for president." The Dallas-based senator, a darling of the Tea Party movement and one of the most ardent supporters of Donald Trump, has been eclipsed in the early weeks by the billionaire real estate mogul. Trump is running strong polls in the early voting states of New Hampshire and South Carolina, and he recently secured the endorsement of longtime friend and former presidential candidate Mitt Romney. Cruz is in third place in Iowa, behind Trump and former Florida Gov. Jeb Bush. Despite his continued strength, Cruz's organization has been lagging recently and he said the Iowa campaign "is basically over." "We are not losing Iowans in the sense that we're not winning Iowa," he said. "The folks who voted in the last caucus are voting again." Cruz was reluctant to consider an endorsement of Trump in recent weeks, until the businessman was gracious enough to call him his "friend." Cruz, however, continued to criticize Trump's economic plan and call on the billionaire to release his tax returns. Cruz also repeatedly called on Trump to release his birth certificate to prove his eligibility to be president, at one point telling CNN that Trump's immigration ban was un-American. "He should step up and make clear he's a natural born citizen," Cruz said on CNN's "The Lead." "The day before the election is not a time for an ongoing investigation." The Trump campaign fired back, calling Cruz a "fraud" who had a "sick agenda." "Ted Cruz's attempts to undermine and distract the public from Donald Trump's pro-growth economic policies will be quickly forgotten, once people see that Trump will create 25 million new jobs in the first four years of a Trump presidency," spokesman Stephen Miller said in a statement Tuesday. Cruz said he was concerned by Democrats' increasing focus on Trump's policies, including his proposed Muslim ban and
