Devil Engine is a developer focused on "Undreamt Universe Experiences". We love creating games that are fun and unique, but also that are beautiful. We want to push the limits of what games can do. To achieve this we have partnered up with the Unreal Engine. The Unreal Engine has been creating amazing worlds and characters for many years. We have taken this engine and pushed it to the limits to make stunning games. ☐☐☐ Time travel in a new twisted way. The game's antagonist will be pulling you through "Rips in Time". The further you explore, the more intertwined the worlds become! Experience the early 1900's and future all in one, thanks to the power of Unreal Engine 4. Figure out the puzzles to move through time! Use your new abilities such as; double jumping, wall running, and sprint dashing! Any combination of your abilities may be needed to solve the puzzles, but there are always many ways to complete the puzzles and move further through time! Key Features: ☐Puzzles As you go from puzzle to puzzle you will complete a level. As the levels progress you will move further through time. Experiment with the different ways you can solve each puzzle! ☐Abilities You can choose from many abilities to solve each puzzle. Such as double jumping, wall running, sprint dashing, and using a grapple hook! Don't forget there is more to come! ☐Environments and Time Periods This game has a diverse number of environments, and there are also different time periods! All of which make and tell the story of the game. ☐Stunning graphics Thanks to the power of Unreal Engine 4 I can provide you with a game that fully immerses the player. With the use of 4K textures it truly is an unreal experience. About The Game Devil Engine: Devil Engine is a developer focused on "Undreamt Universe Experiences". Fantasy Fairways X64 [Updated]

'SpellForce 3' is the most ambitious fantasy action role-playing game yet, promising extreme freedom for exploration and turn-based tactical combat. As a warring empire's most feared wizard, grow in power, learn powerful spells and confront your enemies in epic turn-based tactical battles. Explore a rich and dynamic fantasy world, free from fixed level boundaries. Defy convention as you command an army of up to four real-time party members, each with their own skills, strengths and weaknesses. Every victory and defeat will leave a lasting mark on your character, giving you your own unique story. In 'SpellForce 3' your actions will shape not just the fate of your character but of entire worlds. Hey! I thought I could post a couple of videos from gameplay on Xbox? I'm a big fan of the series, having spent the last two days playing it on Xbox One X and I am absolutely amazed at the lighting and textures and performance on console! This game on console is breathtaking with everything running in realtime! Mentioned in the Video: The Tesla game uses Unity engine. They couldn't possibly use their own engine, could they? Spellforce 3's lighting using just one light (an orb) and reflections from other objects I don't know if this is related to Spellforce 3 or the Tesla game but it's possible the Tesla team could be using Unity to get things going. They might just use Unity and do their own engine or even Unreal. Could be the A.I is Unity based or if they are looking at Unity as it is easy to program and tons of tutorials on it. It's different between windows version and Linux version. Windows version is rasterized graphics, and Linux version is software rendered graphics. You play as wizard in an alternate dark fantasy world where magic is strong but few people know it. Your goal is to conquer it, and even become the most powerful mage in the world, and no other. This game not only promise dynamic and emergent gameplay but also good level of depth. You can always improve and level up your character and equip more and more spells and weapons, and use the replay of what you've done to level up your character. You also have to carefully expand your empire as your economic prosperity grows, and use diplomacy to get to the peak of the world. Honestly the game is real good! A few tweaks could be done to it, more informative items c9d1549cdd

Comments (0) Transcript of Cities in Motion: London Cities in Motion: Urban Adventure for Everyone Going under the ThamesYou can see the Millennium Bridge at night in this spectacular film which follows the River Thames from Westminster to Greenwich under the Big Ben walkway and traces its history both city wide and North and South. London's new tour in time and space movie London is a journey through a city at last open to all and open for the taking. London's rivers, railways, buses, trams, tube trains, Docklands, high-rises and parks link to the rest of us through the inner waterways and the arts, humanities and sciences we share this capital with. Made into a dazzling animated movie by master animation house Aardman, London is a film of ideas that showcases everything about this vibrant city. Our team, our artists, and our partnerships mark the magic of London. Aarabhai, Co-Director of London, and David Richardson, Director and Producer of LondonMAYERBRUCH Ltd. Building on the success of our annual festival, LFT will create a new and relevant narrative for today. We are very excited to be moving to the O2's East Stand where our Festival will be open for ticketed events and accessible to anyone in London, free. During this first year the festival will be free to enter meaning that everyone will be invited to join in and create something special. For LFT 2012, we have three teams of creatives working hard to make the festival a celebration of London's cultural heritage and a showcase of some of the world's leading digital artists. As a team we want to create a dynamic and immersive experience, bringing together the legacy and creativity of the city and its people with the cutting-edge vision of the future.LONDON FOR TEENS We've worked with the Mayor and Met Office to bring four teams of artists, makers and designers to the O2's east stand. We'll be exploring the science and
